Mr. Tague - Ten Years of Quiet Service

Mr. Sam Tague is our school gardener. He donates his time to making our school grounds a place of which we can be proud. He is a quiet man who gives freely of himself yet asks little in return. For this reason, we feel that Mr. Tague deserves our recognition.

Mr. Tague has spent his entire life in agricultural pursuits. He was born in Indiana and raised in Ohio. He attended Lebanon University in Ohio in 1913-14. He went into the U.S. Navy in 1916. Mr. Tague first came to Sequim in 1930. He farmed here for many years and in the late 1940's he was an Agricultural Instructor for the Veteran's Agricultural Program in Sequim for World War II veterans. He has been gardener for Sequim School District for the past ten years. Although Mr. Tague is now retired he continues to work on his own time.

We feel that Mr. Tague merits our gratitude and recognition on the basis of his service towards the school and towards us.

The year 1968 was unique.

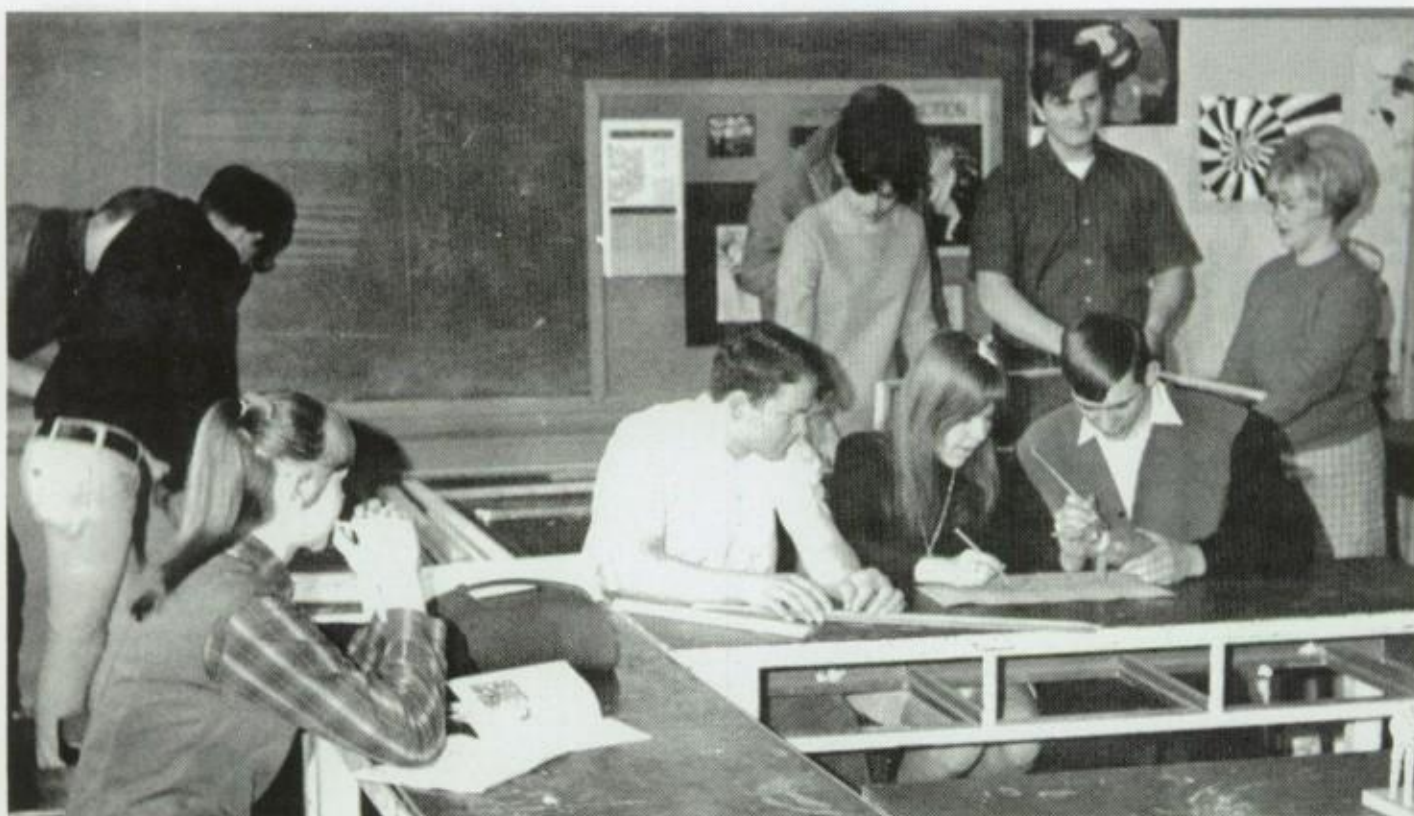

For those who were attending Sequim High School, there will never be another like it.

Faces were different, the ideas new, the special events diverse and distinctive.

The year before was not like this one.
And next year will not be like it.

Heather's quick wit and natural friendliness made her a favorite with the students.

New Zealand is Brought Closer to the U.S.A.

Heather Johnstone will best be remembered for her quick wit and her fascinating accent. Heather was the fourth foreign student to attend Sequim High School under the American Field Service Program. She came to Sequim from New Zealand where her family owns a sheep station on the North Island. She lived with the Neal Huffman family while here, and had her own heifer to show at 4-H shows.

Heather adapted quickly to America. She joined in on many activities including student teaching, since she hopes to become a teacher when she returns to her home. She was unforgettable as the Cockney landlady in the senior play "1984". When Heather left Sequim, she toured the United States and returned to New Zealand with a broader picture of America. Sequim, too, was left with a clearer understanding of New Zealand as well as an affection for Heather. And New Zealand was brought just a little closer to the U.S.A.

Illumination. Regulation. Modification Occupy Council

A stage lighting project highlighted this year's student council projects. From several choices, the student council members picked this project because of the great need for it. For this year's operetta, "Carousel", better lighting was a must. This was the major incentive in deciding on this project.

The student council was active in many other areas. Parking lot regulations underwent a complete change, and registration stickers were made mandatory for student drivers who use the parking lot. The Associated Student Body finished paying for the football score clock purchased last year. The constitution of the organization was extensively revised. Plans were made to change the method of introducing and passing motions. It was found that the council members needed more time to consider the necessity and the enthusiasm for the proposals brought up. These important decisions, as well as the numerous lesser, but still important ones, gave the student council firm control over the student government of Sequim High School.

THE MAJOR PROJECT of the student council this year was the purchase and installation of a new lighting system for the auditorium. It was put to good use during the operetta.

A Full Week

QUEEN DONNA DeNoma and King Craig Drynan reigned over this year's Homecoming activities.

MANY STUDENTS PARTICIPATED enthusiastically in the traditional snakedance. (Lower right).

DECORATED LOCKERS added a carnival atmosphere.

AFTER A DAY of Silence, students demonstrated high spirits at the pep assembly.

Of Activities Increased Homecoming Enthusiasm

THE FINAL STEP was taken in the preparation of the bonfire as the Victory "V" was placed at the top.

Homecoming 1967-68 produced a great amount of excitement and spirit. Each day during Homecoming Week was designated for a certain activity. Monday was Stomp Day. The kids were supposed to wear funny shoes. Tuesday, Funny Hat Day, the kids wore funny hats, many of them self-designed. Wednesday was Locker Day. Many lockers were colorfully decorated by the students who owned them. On Thursday, Silence Day was proclaimed. Fine tickets were given to students who broke the silence. At the end of the day, all the kids got to yell as loud as they could at a pep assembly. All the activities were enthusiastically accepted. The pep was really high for the game on Friday. King Craig and Queen Donna reigned over the various festivities as 1967-68 Homecoming Royalty. Despite the loss of the game to Port Townsend, 12-13, the good spirit made Homecoming 1967 one to be long remembered.

Crime Demands Attention Of Debate Class

RESOLVED: "THAT CONGRESS should establish uniform regulations to control criminal investigations." This was the topic that the 1968 Debate teams had to work with. The pros and cons of criminal investigation were debated in the classroom situation, as well as against teams from East Bremerton, Forks, Bainbridge, Port Townsend and Central Kitsap.

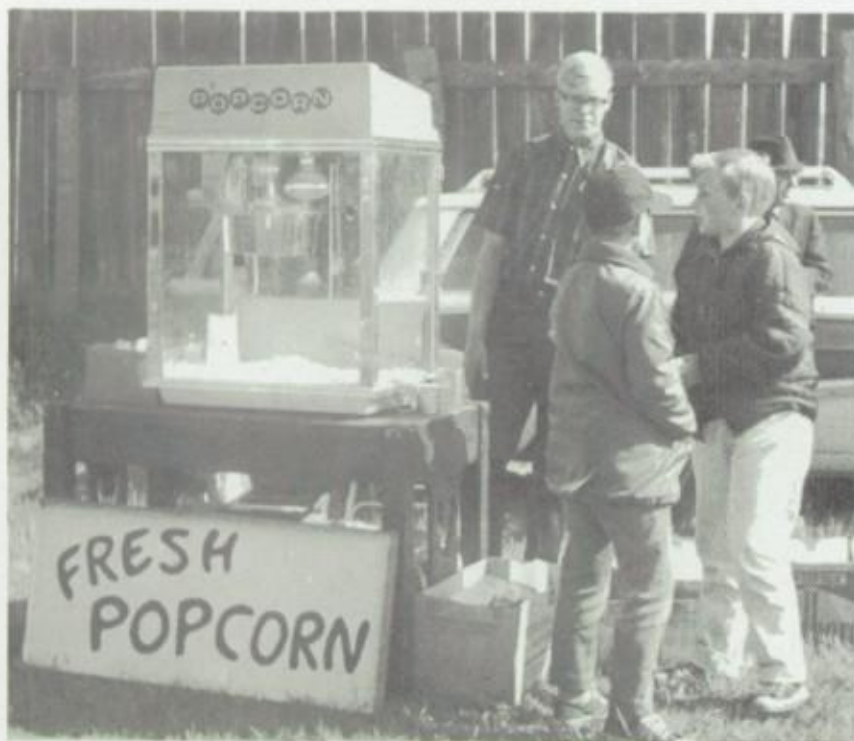

Debate was finally made into a class this year. The class consisted of seven teams. With Miss Kenoyer as their teacher they sustained a good win-loss record.

THE NUMBER ONE DEBATE TEAMS, Duane Dahl and Dave Benson maintained an 80% win record.

PRESIDENT WAYDE WATTERS makes good the use of the new popcorn machine during the Irrigation Festival.

A field trip to Tacoma and the Medical Open House of the University of Washington was one of the highlights in the Honor Society's program this year. The trip included stops at the Tacoma Smelter, Sea-Tac Airport, the University of Washington, and the Cinerema Theater. Other activities included the sponsoring of two assemblies, one by Battelle Northwest and a Twentieth Century film on computer revolution, the annual sale of popcorn and candy at school and community activities, and the annual dinner. The club also bought a new popcorn machine this year which added greatly to production. Mrs. Scott is the club advisor.

THE SEQUIM HIGH SCHOOL MARCHING BAND
Under the direction of Mr. Jim Wilson

Crescendo Of Activities Harmonizes Music Department

SEQUIM HIGH SCHOOL MARCHING BAND demonstrates in home town parade skills acquired during weeks of drill.

EXPERIENCE COMBINED with coordination added to the marching skill of the twirlers. They were Robyn Rygaard, Pam Sprague, Dale Ann Cox, and Marsha Gitchell.

BAND COUNCIL MEMBERS elected this year were: Bruce Ludke, Mike O'Dell, Gary Kase, Breva Smith, Jim Bain, Georgia Kase, Joe Campen, Gordy Sears.

The Sequim High School music department maintained a heavy schedule of concerts and parades throughout the year. The Counterpoints reassembled in the fall and began rehearsing for the annual Christmas concert. The members of this group made up the base of the chorus used in the production of "Carousel". The concert band worked hard preparing for several performances throughout the year. The fall and winter schedule included Massed Band, the fall concert, and the Christmas concert. In the spring band adjudication and honor band was held and the spring concert was presented. The marching band started their season with the Sequim Irrigation Festival Parade. They also marched in the Victoria Queen's Day Parade, the Bellingham Blossom Time Festival, and the Port Townsend Rhododendron Festival Parade.

The quality of the band has improved from last year in that a better group effect has been achieved. This quality applied to the quantity of performances has made the 1967-1968 Sequim High School Band something to be proud of.

COUNTERPOINT MEMBERS were the nucleus of the chorus in the operetta "Carousel".

A REVOLVING carousel was the highlight of the opening scene, in which the action was pantomimed among a bustling carnival crowd. Mr. Wilson, pictured in the foreground, was a major reason for the success of the operetta.

New England Comes Alive During "Carousel" Performance

To pick the most outstanding point in the production of Rodgers and Hammerstein's Carousel would be an impossibility. The entire production was unbelievably good for an amateur production. Several new flats were made to supply backgrounds for the numerous scene changes. The scenery painted on the backdrops was done so well that it really added to the feeling of being right there. Three dimensional rocks and trees were added to the outdoor props to give a more realistic appearance. The acting of all the members was exceptional. The crowd scenes were lively and uninhibited and the leads portrayed their characters with surprising realism. All of the songs have been implanted in the minds and hearts of many of the cast and crew.

The operetta was performed six times and a standing ovation was given five times consecutively. The portrayal of this story of comedy and emotion has become an unforgettable event in the lives of everyone who helped in the effort to make it the success that it was.

BILLY BIGELOW AND Julie Jordan discover that they are in love with each other.

ENOCH SNOW AND Carrie Pipperidge discuss their plans for the future.

CARRIE AND the girls look forward to her future marriage to Enoch Snow.

EVERYONE FEELS happy and contented after the first clambake of the year.

JULIE FINDS peace and Louise finds happiness at her graduation.

THE BOYS enjoyed rehearsing for the hornpipe dance.

Girls' Club Raises "Daisies In May"

The Girls' Club concentrated all their efforts toward raising money for the annual Mothers' Day Tea held in the spring. The big fund-raiser was the Girls' Club tolo, which was a Valentine's Day grub dance. "Be My Grub" was the theme, which appropriately labeled the occasion. The gymnasium was decorated with red hearts and cupids, red and white streamers, and multi-colored balloons. The "Rutorian Factory" supplied the music and their special lighting effects helped to make the evening a success.

The tolo was a complete success in that it was enjoyed by all who attended and a substantial profit was made. With the financial means, the girls were able to carry on extensive plans for the Tea. The main centerpiece was a maypole set among a bed of daisies, perfectly depicting the theme, "Daisies in May." A wide variety of fashions for all occasions was modeled by the girls. A singing group provided entertainment and a skit was also presented. The success of the Tea was a memorable way to end the activities of the 1967-68 Girls' Club.

DILIGENTLY PLANNING THIS YEAR'S activities were officers: Breta Smith, President; Marilyn Erickson, Secretary-Treasurer; and Linda Watters, Vice-President

MANY COUPLES ENJOYED dancing at the Girls' Club Tolo, "Be My Grub."

Thespians Regard Repertory's "Rivals"

PLANS FOR THESPIAN ACTIVITIES were made by officers Liane Agostine, President; Duane Dahl, Vice-president; and Cam Handley, Point Recorder.

Highlight of Thespians activities this year was a field trip to Seattle. Over forty Thespians and interested students attended the Repertory Theater and saw their production of "The Rivals." Before attending the Theater, the students visited the Volunteer Park Art Museum. With Mrs. Binns as advisor, the Thespians enjoyed a banquet at the end of the year honoring the graduating members of the society.

"Review" Captures Year's Events In Print

This year, the journalism class wiped their slates clean. The most revolutionary change was a sophomore editor, Tori Eaton. Only three members of the class had previously worked on the paper, but hard work made up for a lack of experience. With the help of the advisor, Miss Barber, and a dedicated staff, the "Prairie Wolf Review" published some very interesting issues. Some outstanding features of this year's paper were some thought-provoking articles on a teen center for Sequim, the P.E. program, and conformity and a new humor and comment column, Omnium-Gatherum. This year's journalism class succeeded in capturing the events of the year in print and made their contribution to this school year.

MISS BARBER, the advisor of the class, often spoke with the editor to improve the quality of the paper. (right).

THE JOURNALISTS often struggled to meet the Wednesday night deadlines and maintain quality in the paper.

QUESTIONING AND DISCUSSION in class was a large part of preparing stories for the paper.

THIS PEP DANCE was one of the projects of the club to raise money for the national convention.

F.B.L.A. President Honored By State Office

THE SCHOOL STORE was a popular and a profitable venture for the F.B.L.A.

1967-68 F.B.L.A. officers were: Penny Reinke, Secretary; Linda Fuller, Reporter; Donna DeNoma, Treasurer; Mr. Lisk, Advisor; Lori Kettel, Vice-President; Donna Rosell, President.

F.B.L.A. activities were expanded this year. A wider selection of supplies was added to the school store. Work book sales were promoted. A Thanksgiving drawing was held. Zip code books were sold for use during the Christmas season. A Christmas dance was sponsored. The members also tried to publicize the observance of Vocational Week. Plans were made for field trips to Rayonier and Crown Z, and to local businesses.

An honor was bestowed on the Sequim Chapter of F.B.L.A. this year. Donna Rosell, Sequim Chapter President, was elected to the office of Secretary of the state F.B.L.A. chapter. She will serve as a representative to National Conference in June and will run for Western Regional Vice-President.

FFA and FHA Work Towards Bettering the Community

FFA OFFICERS; Tom Gault, sentinel; Bill Schroepfer, reporter; Alan Millet, President; Don Schneider, Vice-president; Dan Dosey, secretary; Steve Blair, treasurer; work with John Lofdahl in preparation for future meetings.

Under the guidance of advisor John Lofdahl, the FFA was active in many areas this year. An important part of their activities was their participation in parliamentary procedure contests. This team spent long hours in preparation, perfecting their parliamentary procedure for competition with other FFA chapters. Several members had livestock to be entered in competition at the Puyallup and Clallam County Fairs. The chapter is now in the process of paying for a tractor they purchased for use on another of their projects. They use it to earn money by plowing and rototilling fields and garden plots of local farmers and residents, and for putting in lawns for the residents. The boys also built a concessions stand for use during football season. FFA activities were organized not only to benefit each individual member, but they were a combined effort to show good citizenship throughout the community.

MEMBERS ATTENDED the many meetings held to promote a successful year.

GIRLS PUT IN LONG HOURS working on curtains for the Town Hall.

WORKING TOGETHER WITH ADVISOR, Mrs. Spath, the girls completed flowers for a regional meeting.

WORKING TOGETHER, the officers, Colleen Barton, secretary; Heather Johnstone, Vice-President; Peg Adams, Treasurer; and Donna DeNoma, President, planned future meetings.

An important function of the FHA is to give the members an opportunity to earn a reward through helping the community. In past years the girls have worked individually to earn their degrees and they received a pin as evidence of their efforts. This year the system was changed. The girls began working for a degree as a group by organizing activities to help the community. The girls spent many hours after school and at home sewing new curtains for the Town Hall. They also served refreshments at various school activities, such as Career Day.

With a larger membership, the girls were able to put an extra effort into making FHA even more successful and rewarding than in past years. Meetings were held twice a month throughout the year to discuss possibilities for new projects. Mrs. Spath, FHA advisor, helped the girls to make final decisions on new projects. Many members spent several Saturdays traveling to regional meetings where hundreds of FHA girls met to exchange ideas and accomplishments of their chapters.

Recording "This Year" Challenged Yearbook Staff

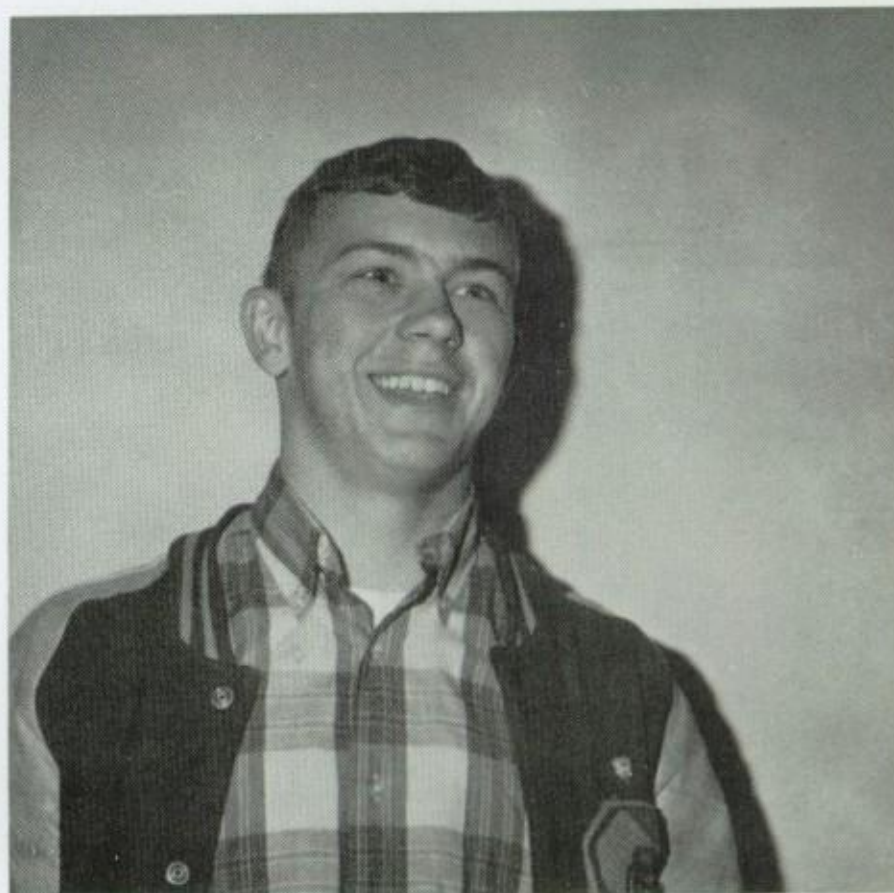

Putting out a yearbook is by no means an easy job. Behind each page is the work of perhaps four people. Each page is made the responsibility of one of the members of the Greywolf staff. Each member most likely has the responsibility of several pages throughout the year. The page editor must organize and assign the work to be done by the layout staff, the copy staff, and the photographers. All these parts must be approved by each editor in succession and final approval is given by the editor-in-chief. The page is then ready to be sent in for the copy to be set, after which it is returned, proofread, and the pictures attached. This final layout is sent in for the finished production of the annual to be made.

In spite of all the work that must go into it, the staff had many good times during the annual work sessions in the machines room. The finished product made all the time and work put into the 1968 Greywolf worthwhile.

"GREYWOLF 1968" EDITOR Duane Dahl (right) with advisor Mr. Schlaffman coordinated the activities of staff members.

BUSINESS MANAGER Cam Handley (below) made the yearbook possible financially.

ACTIVITIES AND ORGANIZATIONS STAFF Donna DeNoma, editor Pam Livingston, and Ellen Heath found their jobs challenging.

COPY WRITERS Breta Smith, Editor, and Debbie Keeting wrote the copy which is included on the pages.

"A Day In May" Inspires Festival Activities

Queen Cathy Curren reigned over the 73rd annual Irrigation Festival with her court, Princess Donna DeNoma and Princess Crystal Sorensen. The Royalty represented Sequim well, not only during the three day festivities, but also traveling to Olympia to meet the governor, Victoria, Port Townsend, McCleary, and many more places. Beginning with the coronation May 9th, the next three days were filled with activities. Thousands of spectators viewed the Demolition Derby following the Grand Parade. Many Sequim High School students took active parts in the Cattle and Horse Shows, baseball games, and the presentation of "Carousel" Friday evening. Many local boys took part in the annual Smoker Saturday night while the girls took part in the horseshow the following Sunday morning. The Sports Car Gymkana, a new added attraction to the festival, wound up the festivities. Sunday evening the carnival was taken down ending the festival. Thousands of people enjoyed the festival making the 73rd annual Irrigation Festival one of the best yet.

THE CARNIVAL ADDED much enjoyment and relaxation to many of its participants.

THE QUEENS FLOAT (above) highlighted the parade in its spring-time theme of "A Day in May".

"Once Upon A Dream" Prom Theme

THE DREAM CASTLE framed the entry way of the Prom.

THE CROWD AT THE PROM refreshed themselves before the next dance.

AMIDST A VARIED BEVY OF STARS AND CLOUDS, the class of 1969 held their Junior Prom on April 20, 1968 in the old gym. They chose for their theme, "Once Upon A Dream". The entrance was constructed as a small castle with a passageway through it. Upon entering, the orchestra was situated across the room and each side was lined with tables. Class president Rick Johnson and the two general chairmen, Trudi Gault and Mike Tinnensend, along with the committee chairmen, worked hard to coordinate and construct the plans and materials for the prom. Several eighth girls served the refreshments—of which there was a wide variety.

THE HAZE OF A LOVELY EVENING lingered as a final farewell to "Once Upon A Dream."

Comment on the 1967-68 Senior Play was widely varied. The class chose 1984 by George Orwell, which concerns the struggle of a man to keep his individuality in a regimented society. Even though some felt this was a bad choice, all of the cast did an excellent job of acting under the direction of Miss Kathy Vold, a drama major and an elementary school teacher, with the help of Donna DeNoma, student director, and Mrs. Binns, supervisor. The finished product showed that the crew did a thorough job in organizing the production. The public felt that the play was of a higher grade than those presented in the past. All involved gained a great amount of self-satisfaction through this experience and it will be remembered for years to come.

ENTHUSIASM WAS shown at rehearsals, especially during the hate scene.

Seniors Explore Unique Areas In Their Play And Dance

The Senior Dance, held November 22, was a highlight of the fall of '67. Decorations were centered around the theme, "Knight of the White Rabbit." Giant flowers, psychedelic signs, two stuffed Cheshire cats, and a large paper knight helped to create a "wonderland" atmosphere. Music was provided by the "Fruit of the Loom". The refreshments were exceptionally good through the combined efforts of the committee and several volunteers. The dance was enjoyed by all who attended.

THE "FRUIT of the Loom" set the mood with the title song, "White Rabbit".

The season got off to a good start with two victories, the first over Darrington and the second over Forks. But the Wolves broke the spell with a loss to Vashon and another loss to Bainbridge. They gained a big victory over North Mason but fell again at the Homecoming game with Port Townsend. The Wolves finished the year with two thrilling wins. The first was against the Port Angeles J.V. Then the Wolves beat the Lakeside Lions, third in the state, in the toughest gridiron test of the season.

This was the best season that our school has seen in nineteen years. In 1949, the Wolves finished the season with seven wins and two losses. Since then nothing above a 4-4 average has been achieved. Because of this welcomed improvement, there was a great amount of enthusiasm among the team members. They began the season with forty-five boys and ended with forty-two, two of these losses due to injuries. The spirit remained high throughout the season.

An increased membership resulted in an increased participation in Pep Club activities. Two pep buses were taken to every away game during the football season. Members of Pep Club worked hard at painting signs and selling programs at the games. The Pep Club also sponsored a free pep bus to the Lakeside game. At the end of the season, the club held a dinner for all the boys who turned out for sports.

All these activities kept the girls busy throughout the year. But with a seemingly inexhaustible supply of enthusiasm, the girls proved themselves to be the deciding factor in boosting the pep for our school.

THIS YEAR'S PEP SQUAD was led by Liane Agostine, Secretary; Pam Livingston, President; Jo Ann Cox, Treasurer, Mary Lemley, Vice-President.

Pep Club and

Cheerleaders Lead in Boosting School Spirit

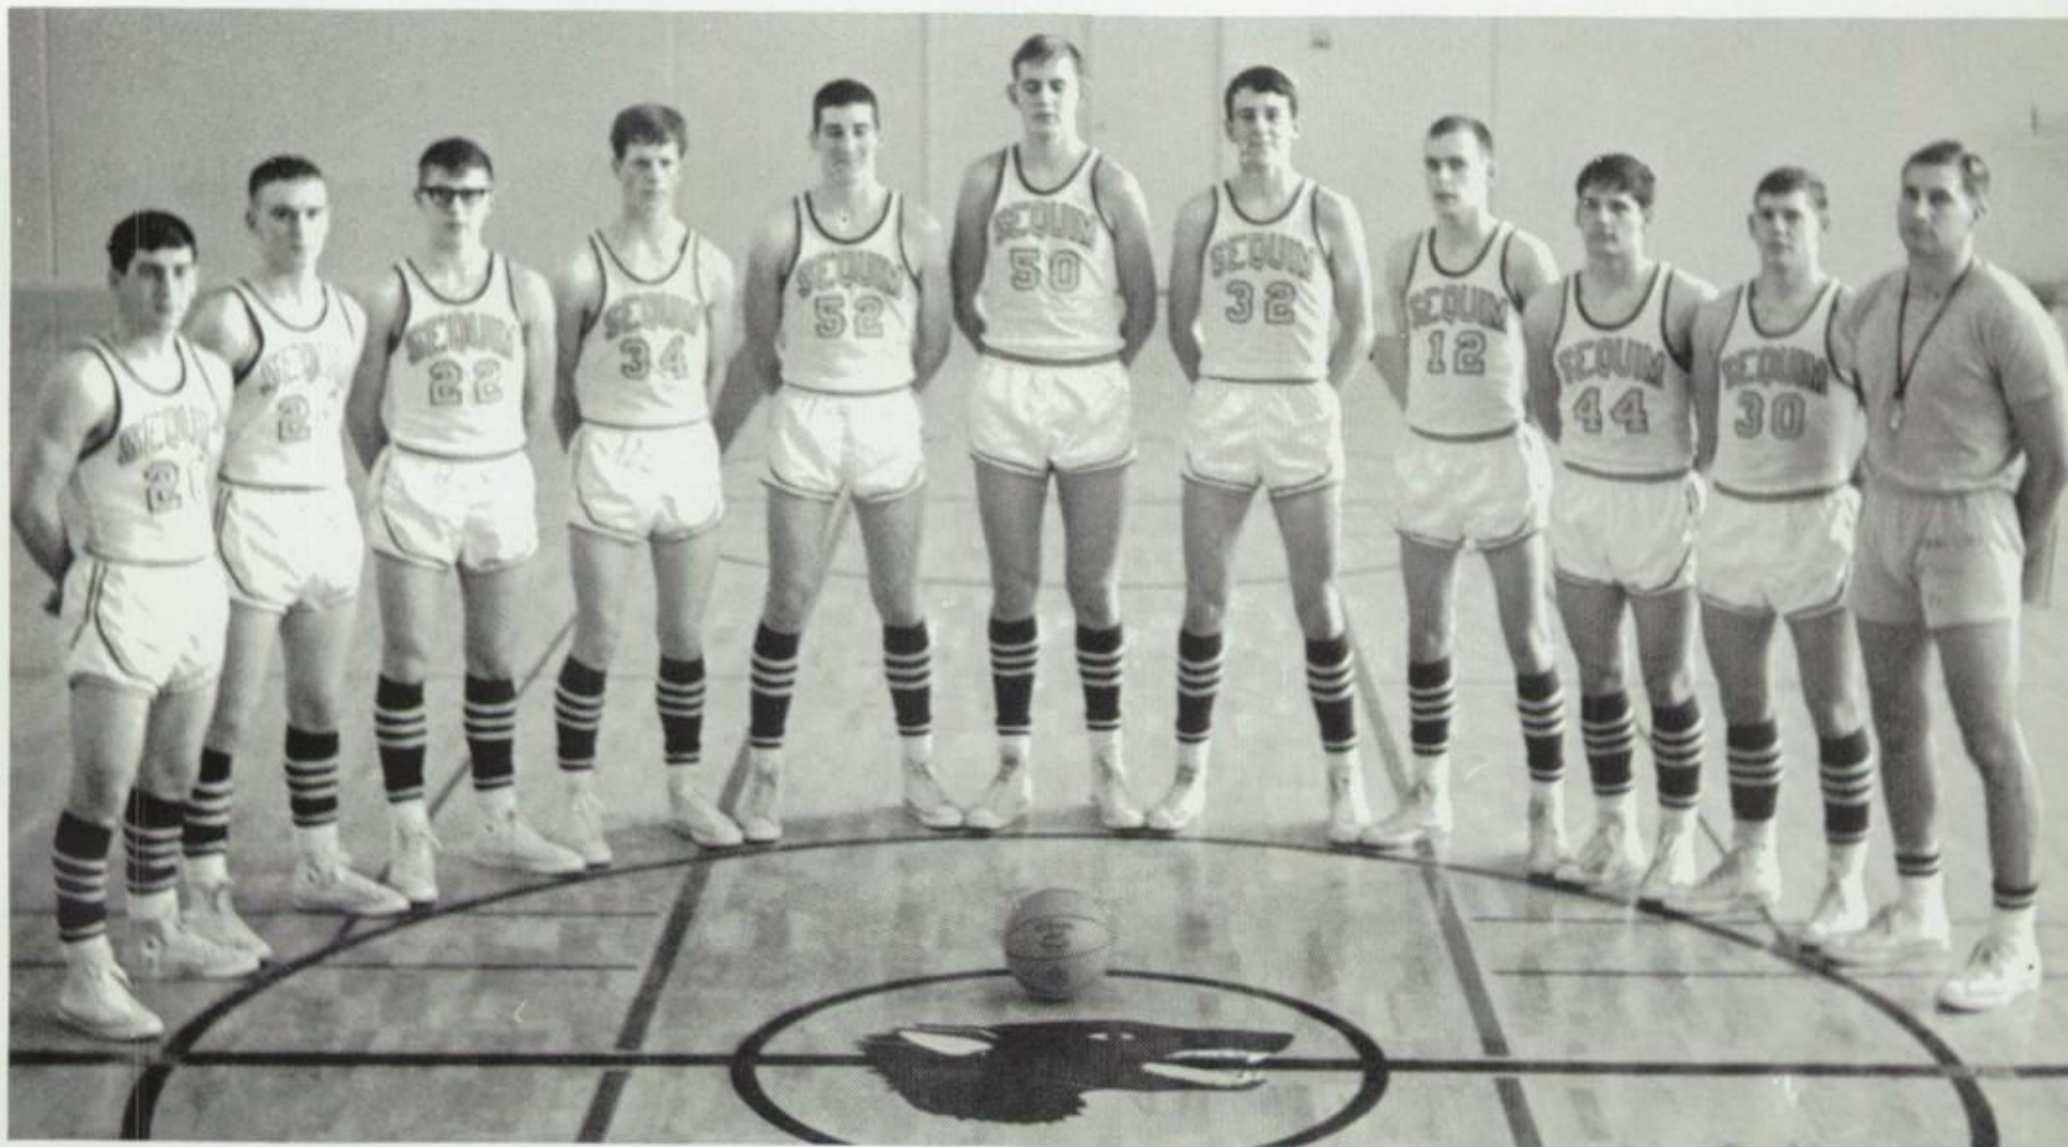

The 1967-68 cheerleaders showed their enthusiasm for the coming year of athletic activity by attending the state cheerleading conference held at Central Washington State College in Ellensburg in July. They increased their skill and knowledge of cheerleading by learning new cheers and competing against the other cheerleading squads at the conference. In competition, they placed third. They found it to be an enjoyable and rewarding experience and an appropriate way to precede the football and basketball seasons.

With this background, the cheerleaders worked hard to keep the pep high at all the games. When the pep was at its ebb, the skits at pep assemblies, the posters on the walls and the endless enthusiasm put the pep at a high high. They always set a good example and presented a challenge to the student body to equal their pep and enthusiasm.

Ability And Agility Characterize Wolves' Season

THIS YEAR'S BASKETBALL SQUAD was made up of: Bob Funston, Bruce Ludke, Darryl Sanford, John Russell, Alan Millet, Steve Bromell, Rollie Sears, Glenn Fisher, Marty Knapman, Rick Johnson, and Coach Tony McAndrews.

The Wolves started the season with a hopeful outlook. They had good height and good talent. The season began with a terrific upset victory over North Kitsap. The Wolves' offense really clicked for the game in Quilcene which proved to be the best of the season. The rest of the season was marked by many close losses. Although the offense has a hard time getting going during the rest of the season, the defense worked well all season as shown by the low scores, even against the better teams. The 7-13 record does not show the good effort or the hard work displayed by the team throughout the season. Since the majority of the team was juniors, the hope is high for next season's team.

The Lettermen's Club set up projects using old and new ideas, concentrated their efforts toward raising money. They planned to sell sno-cones during the Irrigation Festival as they have in years past. They also planned many new projects. After Christmas, the boys made money by hauling away Christmas trees for people in the community. A scrap-metal drive was held to earn money. The newest and most unique idea was the computer dance held.

The money earned was used to pay for the blazers purchased by the Letterman's Club for the athletic department. After this debt is paid, the club intends to set up a scholarship fund.

The Scrap-Metal Drive was an unusual and profitable venture for the Letterman's Club. Advisor Ed McGuire assisted the Lettermen in their many activities.

LETTERMAN, TOM DUNCAN, sold tickets for the successful Computer Dance. (below).

The G.A.A. increased their activities by organizing new projects as well as continuing with the traditional activities. They again launched the year's activities with the annual campout held at the Sol Duc Hot Springs again this year. They held the traditional badminton and basketball tournaments for individual and class competition. The juniors managed to capture the championship in the basketball tournament.

A comparatively new activity which the girls participated in this year was the Volleyball Sports-day held in Port Angeles. The girls placed first in this event. The G.A.A. also hosted the Bowling Telegraphic Tournament. With all these activities included with the regular weekly turnouts, the girls made a successful year for the G.A.A.

Experience: The Key To Girls' Tennis Success

Experience has been the key to the success the girls' tennis team had in a markedly improved record. Four of the six girls returned for their second season. With the knowledge they gained from the close competition of the previous year, their record of wins and losses was a welcome improvement. More than this, the high spirit that the girls maintained throughout the season added to the victories and helped after the defeats.

CAROL BLORE WATCHES as her partner, Terry Greathouse, returns a drive in a doubles match.

Change and Improvement Marked Boy's Tennis

Dave Mayfield, who held number one position, strains on a forehand drive.

The year began on a hopeful note with four returning lettermen. There were many heart-breaking moments after close losses. Two lettermen had to drop because of other commitments and the season became tougher. The team worked hard, resulting in some great wins and tough defeats. Even with the hard work and long hours, the team had a lot of fun and gained valuable experience.

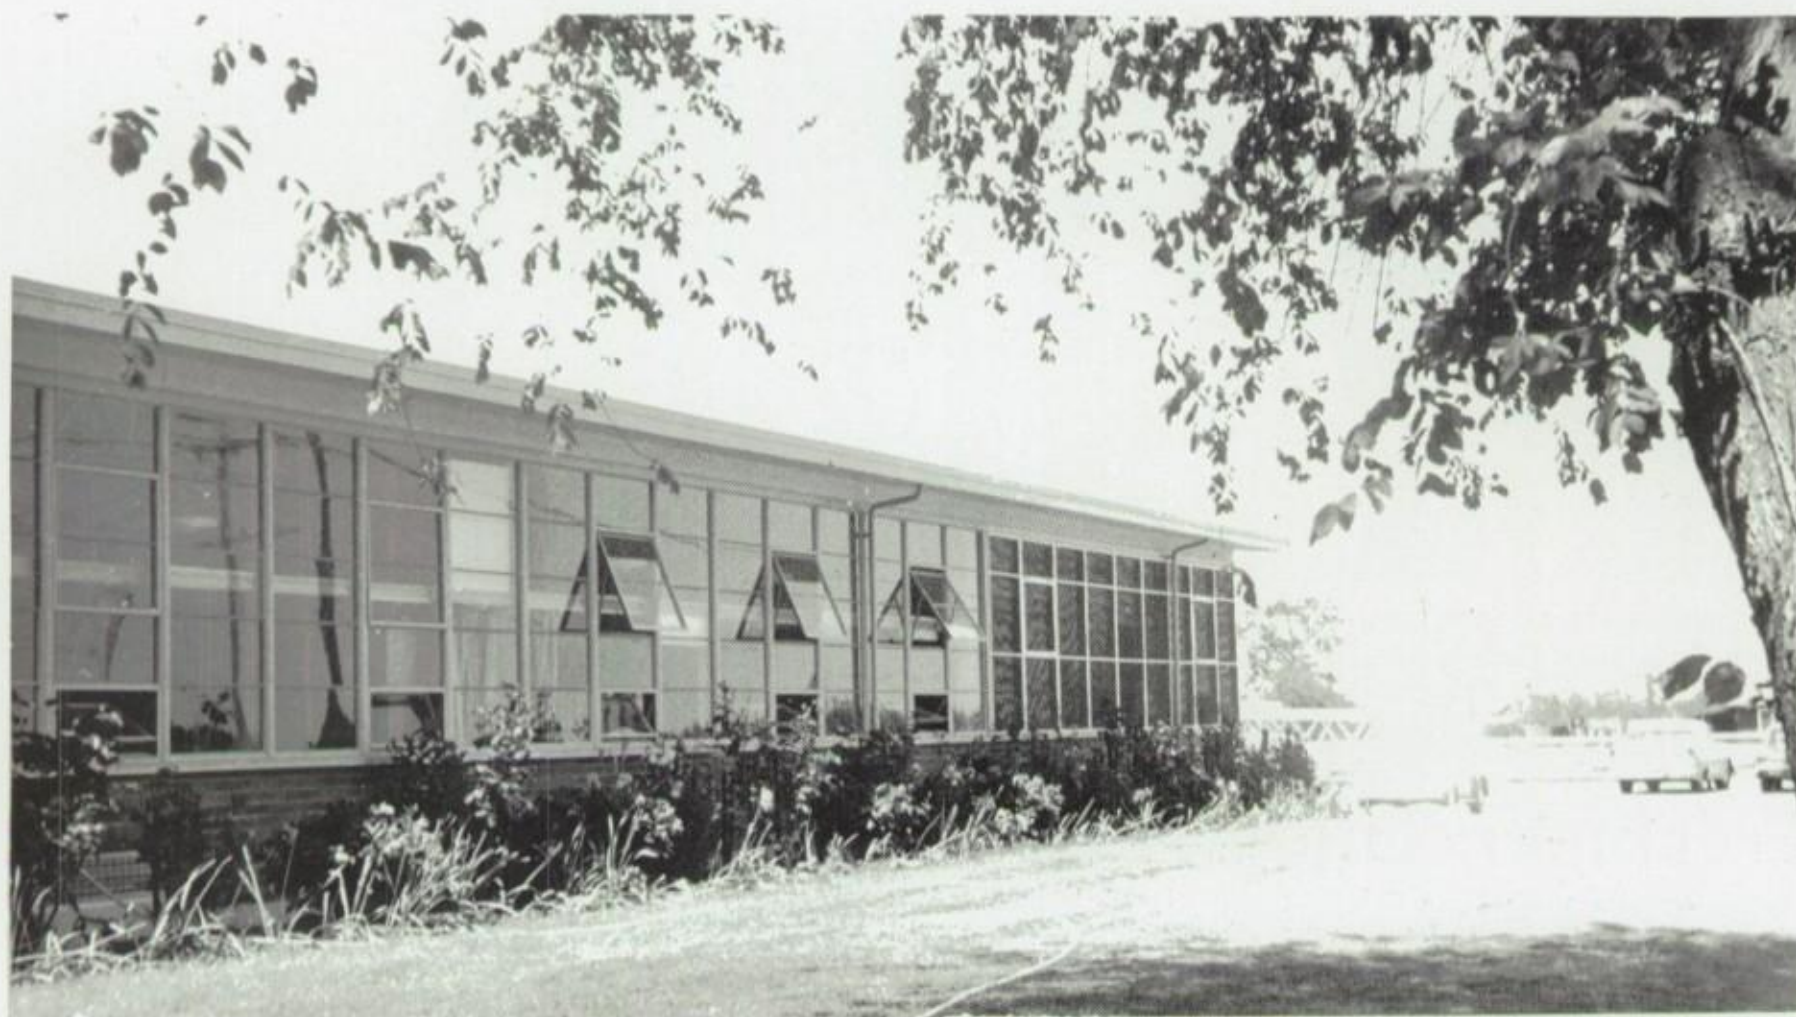

Number three, Gordy Sears, delivers another good serve.

Holder of number two position, Glenn Fisher, leaps for a return.

New School Took Shape

The new Sequim High School was built this year. After many years of inadequate facilities and insufficient room for classes, the old building was left for the new. A bond issue was passed making way for a new school complex. Scheduled for completion before the next school year, the buildings were watched with interest by anxious students. Upon completion, the buildings made room for a four-year high school for Sequim, and a greatly increased area for instruction was made available.

Art - Music Seminar

North Olympic Peninsula high schools participated in an Art and Music Seminar. Seniors Donna DeNoma, Dave Mayfield, Peggy Adams, Duane Dahl and Becky McClurken participated in the study program. Discussion sessions led by Mrs. Dorcas Taylor and Mr. James Wilson covered such topics as Picasso, Stravinsky, Impressionism and Pointillism. The two-month program was brought to an end with a retreat to Fort Flagler under the direction of Mr. John Pogany and Mr. James Van Horn both of Peninsula Junior College.

Roberto Daza Visited From Columbia

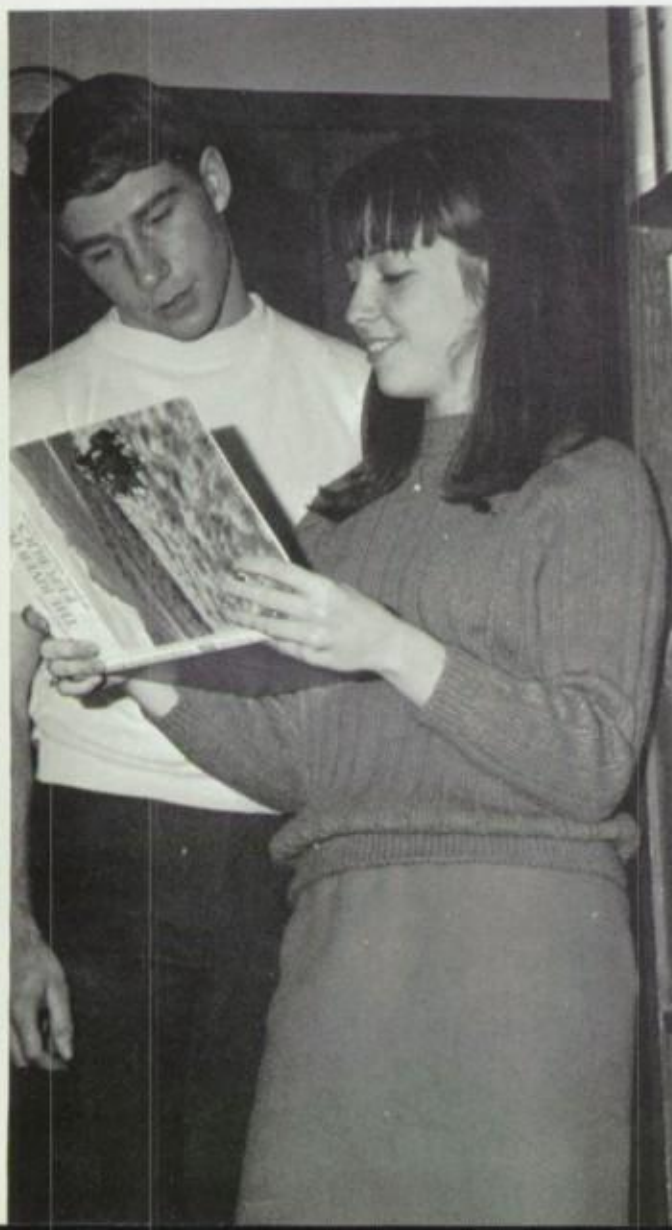

Sequim High was fortunate this year in having Roberto Daza of Columbia as language department aide.

Roberto was from Bogota, Columbia. He is 24 years old, and has had three years of college, including a year of law school.

Roberto speaks excellent English, having had six years of it. He livened up not only Spanish class but the whole school in the six weeks of his stay. He left in mid-April for Needles, California, which is the end of his tour in the states.

On the last day of his stay, Roberto presented an assembly, with slides and music of his country. He sang in English and Spanish. He also sang for the Spanish classes and at the Spring Band Concert.

Roberto's outgoing personality won him many friends in Sequim, and his stay was a highlight of the school year.

Becky McClurken Represents Sequim In Uruguay

This was the year that Sequim was first honored by having one of its students travel abroad under the Americans Abroad Program of the American Field Service. Becky McClurken was chosen by the A.F.S. offices in New York to travel to Melo, Uruguay. She was to live with a Uruguayan family and attend their school. She left Sequim in February, 1968, to begin her stay of one year. The Americans Abroad Program has proved beneficial to Becky, to the residents of Sequim who were kept informed through her letters, and to the people of Melo.

The End of a Memorable Year

Without really planning it that way, this page happens to be the last to be done. These words are the last to be written. This picture is the last to be enlarged. This page, known as the "Afterword" is the closing for staff members of a year's work. For me, it is the end of a four year period of yearbook work known among staff members as the "Forest Dynasty". Satisfaction has been a very complete compensation for every minute of work.

Within the pages of this edition of the Greywolf we have attempted to do one thing - to record this year. This book represents to us, and we hope to you, also, one year of our lives. It represents the people and events which made this year a very special year. It represents all that combined to make this year a memorable one. We hope you will accept this book as a book of memories to be examined periodically with your own memories filling in the blank spaces.

There are many to whom thanks is due for their work on the annual. Individual staff members as well as loyal non-members have made this book possible for you. Perhaps the greatest amount of gratitude belongs to Mr. Schlaffman, our advisor who did give advise, and to Mr. Jim Palm, area representative of the American Yearbook Company both of whom demonstrated remarkable and perhaps undeserved patience.

We trust you will enjoy this book - it was made for you!
